

"UNDISCOVERED COUNTRIES"

Jason King Jones and Casey William Gallagher have crafted a bold 2025 Summer Season—featuring nine productions united through the theme "Undiscovered Countries."

Casey William Gallagher, Managing Director & Jason King Jones, Artistic Director

At PSF we love how incredible stories and exceptional artistry can transport us to imaginative places we've never experienced. Whether the undiscovered countries are geographic, psychological, or otherwise, we invite our community to bravely journey with us into the unknown.

The season features three plays by William Shakespeare including Hamlet, playing in repertory with Tom Stoppard's tragicomedy Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Dead, the rarely staged Timon of Athens, and a touring production of Much Ado About Nothing. The season also features Lorraine Hansberry's landmark drama A Raisin in the Sun, alongside two musical productions: Mel Brooks' Tony Award-winning The Producers and the new musical Penelope by Alex Bechtel.

Family programming includes a fresh adaptation of the Grimms' fairy tale The Princess and The Frog Prince, and the beloved Shakespeare for Kids series, which brings Hamlet to life for young audiences both at the Festival and through its community library tour.

For an exceptional community we've put together an exceptional season. The professional artistry we're planning for 2025 is electrifying, and we invite everyone to experience the thrill of live professional theatre right here in the Lehigh Valley.
